CLEVELAND CHANGES HIS MIND. He Will Spend the Last Night of the Session at the Capitol.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 .- | Special Telegram to the BEE |-It begins to look as though next to the hubbub over the vacant secretaryship of the treasury and the choice of the commissioners under the inter-state commerce law, the president's reported determination to spend the last night of the congressional session at the capitol comes in for a large share of comment among politicians. The practice has been uniform for so many years that Mr. Cleveland's proposed innovation excites wonder. Arguments for and against are very evenly balanced. Congress has a way of putting everything off until the last moment where that is possible, and then trusting to log-rolling, good nature and pure luck to get its work finished in time. Bad legislation has to run a close race with good, and is often allowed to slip through by a stretch on the conscience on the part of the usually prudent and conservative members, in the fear that any interference with it would imperil their own worthy bills, and in the hope that the president will be able to detect the more conspicuous abuse and withhold his signature. This throws an immense and wholly unwarrantable responsibility upon the executive, who is often obliged to crowd into a half a dozen hours a work of investigation and judgment which could properly occupy as many weeks of his time, The feeling that he is close at hand and that he can be reached and urged, if necessary, make members who have bills of general interest in charge rather lenient toward those who are pushing special schemes, and right of way is sometimes temporarily given to matters which the least de-serve. There is a great deal of complaint just now about the declaration of Randall, chairman of the committee on appropria-tions, that he intends to have the floor of the house whenever he wants it for his measures and the endorsement of that announcement by Speaker Carlisle. It is unlikely that more than a dozen general measures will be passed before the end of the session, next Friday other than appropriation bills.

SIGNAL SERVICE MEN PLEASED. The officers and men of the signal service seem well pleased with the passage of the agricultural department bill, which provides for the transfer of the weather bureau. There is no doubt entertained as to the action of the house in the matter, but see in There is no doubt entertained as to the action of the house in the matter, but an impression prevails that the president may interpose an objection. It is understood that he favors an amendment to the bill, which provides for the transier, but that he is opposed to the project of clevating the agricultural burean to an executive department and may yeto the bill.

DEATH ON THE RAIL. Six Boys Killed on the Lehigh Valley Road Near Easton.

EASTON, Pa., Feb. 26,-A deplorable accident occurred this afternoon on the Lehigh Valley railroad about two miles above this city by which six boys, whose ages ranged from twelve to fifteen years, were killed. The unfortunate youths were Walter Moon, Walter Heath, Wm. Pearce, John Gregg, Charles Bonstein and Manning Garis, all of Easton. They had been out hunting muskrats and were walking on the railroad track on their way home. A coal train bearing down upon them the boys stepped to the opposite track, when they were struck by the fast passenger train and were horribly mang-led and killed. There were seven in the party. Six of them were struck by the en-gine and thrown either between the tracks or against the side of the coal train. Harry Pearce was struck by his brother and knocked from the track uninjured. All the bodies were placed in a small building near the Easton depot to await the arrival of the coroner. One of the boys had one arm and both legs broken, Engineer Monroe Music, who was running the passenger train, said: "I left Bethlehem seven minutes late and was seven minutes late and was running at re-duced speed on account of the blinding snow torm, which prevented me from seeing anything on the track. I knew nothing about the accident until my fireman called to me to stop; that I had just struck a lot of men, he supposing that they were men employed on the track." An inquest was held this evening and the employes of the railroad company were exonerated from all blame. The accident occurred on a sharp curve in a blinding storm which prevented the engineer from seeing the boys and the boys from seeing the train, while the roar of the freight train pre-vented them from hearing the other one.

A CURIOUS ROBBERY.

Burglars Carry Off Silverware and

Then Return It. CHARLOTTE, N. C., Feb. 26.-[Special Telegram to the BEE. |-Judge William P. Bynum returned to his home in this city Thursday after an absence of six weeks in Florida and found that while he was away his residence had been entered by burglars. A trunk which contained $2,000 worth of solid silverware had been broken open by the burglars and all the silverware stolen. The loss of this valuable ware greatly disturbed then the committee rose.

Mr. Holman moved to suspend the rules and pass the bill.

Ioss of this valuable ware greatly disturbed Judge Bynum, and in his efforts to get a clue he made a visit to a clue he made a visit to the office of the Southern Express company in the hope of finding trace of its shipment. In this, however, he was unsuccessful, and he had turned to leave the office, when one of the clerks called him back.

"There is a heavy box for you here," said the clerk, "shipped from New York."
"Well," the judge answered adstractedly,
"send it down to my house." Judge Bynum then returned to his law of-fice and all thoughts of the box passed from his mind. But when he went home from dinner he found a heavy, iron-hooped box awaiting him. Curious to know what the box contained he proceeded to open it. He found that it was a double box, and when the inner lid was removed he was astonished to see his missing silverware. Not so much as a spoon was missing, and the ware has not been injured in the slightest degree. The mystery of the theft and return of the goods has not yet been solved.

Then they couched down under the table and awaited a response to the ringing of the bell. Miss McDillon, one of the sisters whose duty it was to attend to the door, came down stairs and was approaching the door with the key in her hand, when one of the girls put her foot out from under the table and tripped her up, at the same time excelaiming: "Now is your time, girls. CHEAPER COKE.

The Syndicate Will not Give Their Workmen an Advance. PITTSBURG, Pa., Feb. 25.- [Special Telegram to the BEE |-It is probable that within the next few days the members of the coke syndicate will reduce the price of coke to $1.75 per ton. The recent increase to $2 has been followed by great dissatisfaction among furnace men and numerous troubles among the coke syndicate members. Furnace men are one by one refusing to buy coke and using anthracite in its stead. This has within the last few days reduced the demand for coke considerably, so much so that coke works are all overstocked, notwithstanding that the Morewood, one of the largest works, is shut down. As a result the coke operators are becoming year, anylous cheuf the is shut down. As a result the coke operators are becoming very anxious about the

The Decision to Be Reached This Week-A Poor Woman's Fruitless Mission-Fatal Wreck on the Rock Island.

It Will Re Welcome. DES MOINES, Ia., Feb. 26.- Spe c'al Telegram to the BEE!-The recent decision of Judge Carrol granting an injunction against the International distillery is likely to cause the removal of that institution from Des Molnes. Under that decision the distillery is prohibited from manufacturing except for mechanical, medicinal, culinary and sacramental purposes, and total prohibition is enforced unless the county board of supervisors sees fit to grant the institution a permit. Whether the board will do that is a question, as they have, since January 1, steadily refused to grant permits to all wholesale dealers who have applied. But, even with a permit from the board, the law is so framed that operators under it are subject to petty annoyances and persecution from pretended temperance reformers who have no higher motive in view than extertion of blackmail. the is well known that George W. Kidd, of New York, who owns the International, is thoroughly disgusted with his four years operations under Iowa prohibition and that a removal of his works from the state has been in contemplation. The last turn of the screws will doubtless precipitate the result and there is at least a reasonable prospect that Omaha is looked upon as the favored lothat Omaha is looked upon as the lavored to-cality. Mr. Kidd telegraphed to-day that he would reach Des Moines on Wednesday next, when the subject of removal will be thor-oughly canvassed. The distillery employs about 200 men, most of whom would go with it if removed. There is nearly $500,000 invested in the plant and its operation. It pays about $10,000,000 annual tax to the government. The prospect of removal has thoroughly aroused our business men, who are crying loudly against the baleful effect of the law on Des Moines.

She Wanted the Judge. DES MOINES, Ia., Feb, 25.-|Ssecial Tele. gram to the Bee. |-A pitiful sight at the state house to-day was a poor woman scantily clad searching for some judge of the supreme court. On inquiry it was learned that she was a party to a suit which had been submitted some time before and if decided adversely to her would take all the little property she possessed. She wanted to find the judge and plead her cause before him, satisfied that if she should be given a chance she could establish the justice of her cause. She couldn't be made to understand that the case was submitted long ago, had had a hearing, and could not now be reopened, and she went away sorrowful. She was from some distant Iowa town and her lawyer had sent her here, it is supposed, thinking that out of sympathy she might secure some advantage from the court. NEW YORK STOCKS.

Union Pacific Investigation Causes a Drop in That Stock.

NEW YORK, Feb. 26.-[Special Telegram to the BEE. |-The bull movement in stocks took something of a set-back to-day. The passage in the senate of the bill to investigate the Union Pacific caused a drop of 1 per cent in that stock at the opening, but as the short interest was already very large prices quickly advanced to the closing figures of yesterday. A story was current that two of the leaders in the Richmond Terminal deal had quarreled and that for this reason one party had determined to sell out. The weakness in stocks to-day was alleged to be on this inside selling. The most potent bear influence, however, was the bank statement, which showed a decrease of over $4,000,000 in the reserve. This heavy decrease, coming when free gold shipments are expected, was a source of apprehension to traders, many of whom anticipated high rates for money a little later in the season. Their statement for January was published to-day and showed an increase of $147,000 for the month. Western advices alleged that rail-road rates both east and west of Chicago were cut more or less and further demoralization cut more or less and further demoralization was anticipated. The drift opinion grew more bearish as the day advanced, and at noon the market was very weak at the lowest prices of the day. Trading was very limited during the afternoon. A good deal of liquidation was noticed in Western Union, and the favorite short sale was Union Pa-cific. Vanderbilts, which have for some time been the leaders in the advance, were quite as weak as anything else. Late reports as weak as anything else. Late reports from the west alleged that rates on trunk line roads were very badly demoralized. The condition of the market closed softly at bottom prices. The total sales were about 240,000 shares.

That Mr. Huggins should consider himself a competent judge of telegraphy and the professor's school, because he him-self graduated under the crudite super-vision of Dobbs, is not strange. But when the Union Pacific railroad doemed him incompetent to attend to minor duties by firing him bodily from a flag station. It is a sufficient guarantee of what may be expected these tenderfeet students, from Who would be bewildered if placed upon a circuit ten miles long, I have examined "telegraph colleges" throughout the east, where they are more numerous than here, and from practical experience I claim that, as a rule, they are frauds, making assurances that what they know can never be realized. Doubtless after promotions from checks, to that of operator of six or seven years standing, this Eldorado may be within his reach. But not now. I would advise all those who contemplate taking a course of "Prof." Dobbs' fake, to make a slight in vestigation of the merits, or rather the demerits of his school, and to those whom he has aiready enshared, we would suggest that they pursue the only proper method of becoming operators, and not heed the advice and attempts at instruc-

I think that upon investigation The New York stock market was not parhis former students, who are as Mr. Huggins alleges, holding positions on the B. & M. and Union Pacific railroad, ticularly attracted to speculative operators during the week and trading was light. No prominent or important factors were brought to the surface and large traders were not in-clined to do much business. A Much Better Demand For Money Reported By Bankers.

FOREIGN FINANCIAL NEWS FIRM.

Petroleum Attracts Its Share of Attention During the Past Six Days-The Receipts of Grain Light.

The Week in the Commercial World. CHICAGO, Feb. 26 .- | Special Telegram to the Beg. -Bankers generally report a better demand for money and the loan market shows a little more strength. Partles who anticipate rather free deliveries of grain and provisions on the first of the month have made arrangements for such financial assistance as they may require. Speculators, too, have been more liberal borrowers and generally succeeded in obtaining all the funds needed, though the unsettled state of affairs required bankers to pursue a more conservative course and insist on wider margins. Interior merchants in grain and live stock have called for some money, which has been forwarded mainly through commission houses. Wholesale houses are borrowing moderately and report active trade in all departments, fully up to the average of past seasons. Shippers of grain were borrowers to a small extent, but packers are out of the market. They that have held their product for recent high prices probably have the money to loan. Bankers are well supplied with loanable Bankers are well supplied with loanable funds, but evince no particular desire to place their funds at reduced rates of interest, as they anticipate an improved trade during the spring months. Some money was placed on "call" early in the week at 5½ percent, but within the past two or three days 6 per cent was demanded and it is understood that round lots for March were placed at that figure. Time loans were quotable at 6%8 per cent according to the standing of the borrower and the amount of money required. Outside paper commanded 8 per cent though little was accepted at eastern financial centers. Money was in better demand, but available funds were plenty and discounts were ob-tained at about the former figures. Advices from abroad show considerable steadiness in leading money markets, with bank balances gradually increasing. New York exchange was in good supply and the demand was moderate, consequently the market was weak. Some currency was ordered from the east early in the week by bankers who have contracts with the express company. sales were made between the banks at 60@70 cents discount per $1,000, and the market closed quiet at that range. Foreign exchange was inclined to quietness during the past week. Offerings were not very large and the demand was limited. Shippers' sixty days documentary bills on London soid at 483466 4844, and the market closed quiet at 483%(6

The be employed but Knights of Labor and mem-bers of the Dyers' union, and that all em-ployers should deduct from the wages of the hands their union dues and assessments. The employers said they could not do this. It was a question of control of their business, and If the strike keeps up two weeks longer the remaining 10,000 workmen will be idle. It is the loss of hundreds of thousands of dollars to the city in one way and another.
